

Maintenance Partners is now part of Howden

Dear client,

I am writing to you today following the recent announcement that Maintenance Partners is now part of Howden (a portfolio company of KPS Capital Partners, LP "KPS").

Howden is a global provider of mission critical air, gas and steam handling equipment and services to customers around the world in highly diversified end markets and geographies. We provide cutting-edge expertise and knowledge to support our full product range including fans, heaters, compressors, blowers and steam turbines. Find out more about our products here.

Working with our customers, we design our solutions to excel in any application and create value through reliability and efficiency. In addition, our technology can be equipped with our unique digital solutions, providing you with real-time access to critical information that delivers optimised equipment and plant performance, and reduces Total Cost of Ownership. Find out more about our digital solutions here.

An exciting future for Maintenance Partners and Howden

This acquisition is a further step in Howden's strategy to provide customers with a full range of aftermarket services close to their operations. The acquisition of Maintenance Partners adds to Howden's digital maintenance solutions and global engineering expertise and will provide the combined customer base in the EMENA region with advanced solutions to maximise the performance and uptime of their critical process equipment.

What does this mean for Maintenance Partners customers?

The acquisition will not change the way Maintenance Partners operates on a daily basis.

- Maintenance Partners will continue to serve all brands of rotating equipment and turbomachinery in Europe, North Africa and the Middle East.
- For the brands of equipment that are part of the Howden group, Maintenance Partners can now also offer full OEM support including spare parts and engineering.
- Your point of contact at Maintenance Partners will remain the same and we look forward offering you the same level of service.

We are committed to keeping you informed, and will be in touch with any updates or changes during the integration with Howden.

Please ensure that you update your records with the information detailed in this letter.

We look forward to a continued business relationship with you, working together to meet your needs. If you have any questions, please contact Wim Schelfaut
